ACCOUNTANCY

Forensic Accountancy - Second Edition

Author: Benny Kwok
Published: 2008
ISBN: 9789628972760
Student Price: $690
Format: Softcover Book

Forensic Accountancy - Second Edition provides a comprehensive insight into many principles and practices in the forensic field and demonstrates practical aspects for accountants and financial professionals in disputes, fraud investigations or legal proceedings. This book has been written in concise English, without the unnecessary use of jargon, catering for the needs of those untrained in the subject and bridging the gap between the legal aspects and the accounting/financial aspects of litigation.

Litigators, regulators, surveyors, contractors, reporters and loss adjusters will find this book as an avenue to the unseen world of accountancy revealing the untold truth and evidence behind the numbers and flows of funds/transactions.

The addition of two completely new chapters to the hugely successful first edition sets a benchmark for those in this niche profession and aims to form a blueprint for mandatory standards in the near future.

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW

Administrative Law in Hong Kong - Second Edition

Authors: Swati Jhaveri,
Michael Ramsden,
Anne Scully-Hill
Published: 2013
ISBN: 9789888147700
Student Price: $690
Format: Softcover Book

Administrative Law in Hong Kong - Second Edition provides the most comprehensive and up to date commentary on this important area of law in Hong Kong.

This revised edition builds on the first with a revamp to its structure making the text even more practical in nature.

It also includes discussion on the latest controversial and high profile cases, such as Fok Chun Wa v Hospital Authority, concerning the obstetric services in public hospitals for non-resident women from the PRC; Vallejos and Domingo v Commissioner of Registration, concerning the foreign domestic helpers' right of abode; and W v Registrar of Marriages on same sex marriage of transsexuals.

BANKING LAW

Merchant Banking in Hong Kong

Authors: J M Chesterton,
T K Ghose
Published: 1998
ISBN: 9780409999402
Student Price: $400
Format: Softcover book

While many books exist on the subject of merchant banking, or investment banking as it is known in the US, there are few publications which specifically address the subject in the Hong Kong context. It is therefore of great value both to outside professionals coming to work in Hong Kong, and to local students of banking and finance to have a book which explains in detail the major merchant banking products in Hong Kong. In writing this book, the authors have attempted to provide a thorough analysis of the main products and give an insight into their development locally.

The information provided in this book comes mainly from published sources. Many of these however are specialised publications and government reports which most readers would normally have neither the time nor the inclination to explore. Much practical information has also been provided by those active in the markets.

The authors have drawn on their extensive banking backgrounds and combined teaching experience to provide a practical insight into the development and workings of the Hong Kong merchant banking market. This book places the Hong Kong market in the context of financial theory. The result is a book of value to professionals, academics and students of banking.

CIVIL PROCEDURE

A Guide to Civil Procedure in Hong Kong - Fifth Edition

Authors: Michael Wilkinson,
Eric Cheung,
Gary Meggitt
Published: 2015
ISBN: 9789888300259
Student Price: $690
Format: Softcover Book

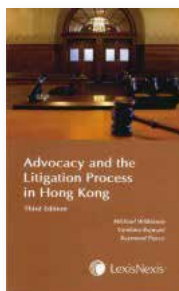

The principal aim of this book is to provide students with a clear and up-to-date exposition of the rules and judicial decisions governing the conduct of civil litigation in Hong Kong.

The Civil Justice Reform has now been effective for more than 5 years and there are many judicial decisions reflecting judicial approaches and attitudes to the implementation of the new rules. However, the jury is still out as to whether the Reforms have significantly achieved their objectives.

The authors have chronicled these developments by reference to the considerable amount of case law on the new rules and Practice Directions. The fifth edition includes the most significant new cases affecting both the new rules and rules unaffected by the Reforms. In fact there is a considerable body of important decisions continuously emanating from the courts which renders the task of the civil litigation practitioner ever more demanding.

CIVIL PROCEDURE

Advocacy and the Litigation Process in Hong Kong – Third Edition

Author: Michael Wilkinson
Published: 2007
ISBN: 9789628972241
Student Price: $690
Format: Softcover Book

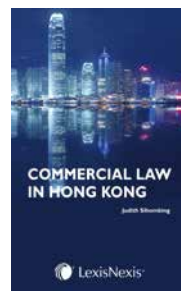

Advocacy and the Litigation Process in Hong Kong - Third Edition provides an introduction to the basic rules, conventions and techniques that every advocate must know and apply when practising in the courts of Hong Kong. It takes the reader through the complex litigation process from first interview with the client, through the preparation of the case for trial, interlocutory applications, the trial itself and finally appeals.

It also highlights the skills required to be successful and emphasises the ethical duties of advocates.

The third edition incorporates many new developments in the rules and techniques of practice and introduces many new cases and practice directions relevant to practice.

This book, which is essential reading for all law students, is also likely to be of interest to practising advocates and all involved in the trial process.

COMMERCIAL LAW

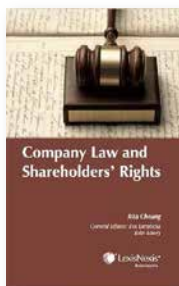

Commercial Law in Hong Kong

Author: Judith Sihombing
Published: 2014
ISBN: 9789888231782
Student Price: $1,000
Format: Softcover Book

This book deals with all aspects of commercial law every commercial lawyer must know. Primarily, it is designed to assist you with the understanding of fundamental contractual principles. It also explains various forms of transactions, including those from areas of general business dealings to areas of consumer finance.

The book is also very practical; it enables readers to identify new forms of assets, draft any form of security or quasisecurity, and to apply common law and equitable principles to different types of transactions, particularly in relation to breach of contracts, and to remedies for breach.

COMPANY LAW

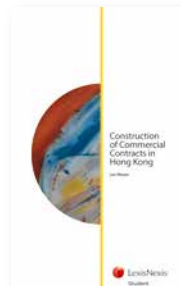

Company Law and Shareholders' Rights

Author: Rita Cheung
Published: 2010
ISBN: 9789888054503
Student Price: $690
Format: Softcover Book

Company Law and Shareholders' Rights is the first specialist work on shareholders' rights from a Hong Kong legal perspective. It covers the common law actions by exceptions to the rule in Foss v Harbottle, the new statutory derivative action, and the twin statutory minority remedies of unfair prejudice and just and equitable winding-up. The law in these areas has developed significantly since 2004 with the clarification of shareholders' personal rights to enforce the section 23 contract and the creation of a new statutory derivative action as contained in the Companies Ordinance Part IVA, as well as the clarification of shareholders' personal rights to enforce section 23 contract.

"... Dr Cheung has admirably risen to the challenge in producing a lucid and comprehensive study of the law ... The work will become an indispensable tool for the litigator and scholar wishing to navigate around the pitfalls which this particular legal landscape presents in abundance." John Lowry, Professor of Commercial Law, Faculty of Laws, University College London

CONTRACT LAW

Construction of Commercial Contracts in Hong Kong

Author: Lee Mason
Published: 2017
ISBN: 9789888389728
Student Price: $750
Format: Softcover Book

This book is designed to be an easily accessible guide to provide a concise and straightforward introduction to the principles of construction of commercial contracts in Hong Kong, considering both local and selected comparative approaches as and where they may be influential in Hong Kong. As well as examining the guiding principles of contractual construction, the book further considers related concepts, such as implied terms, rectification and estoppel by convention, which are also highly relevant to the overall construction issue.

Law of Contract in Hong Kong: Cases and Commentary - Fifth Edition

Authors: Stephen Hall
Published: 2017
ISBN: 97898888389469
Student Price: $750
Format: Softcover Book

Among the many important changes which Hong Kong has experienced over the last couple of decades is the gradual, and continuing, emergence of a distinctively local common law. The common law of contract is no exception, and it is now increasingly possible to speak of a Hong Kong law of contract that is not a mere facsimile of the English common law. The goal of this edition, the fifth of this important work, is to further contribute to the growing body of work dealing with Hong Kong's law of contract.

The cases selected for inclusion in the book have been carefully curated, and the commentary thereupon expounds each legal principle with clarity and exactitude. The text looks toward English case law, where it lays foundational principles, but the Hong Kong cases included are present either because they develop upon contract law in a significant way or in a distinctive Hong Kong setting. In similar fashion, a selection of cases from other common law jurisdictions are also included. It is not, however, simply a casebook. It also includes extensive commentary and analysis exploring the similarities and emerging differences among the jurisdictions, with particular reference to the ongoing development of the law in Hong Kong.

This new edition strives to present the text better and introduces a rearrangement of chapters to better aid comprehension of the subject matter. It will prove invaluable for any student of the law wishing to understand the Law of Contract in Hong Kong.

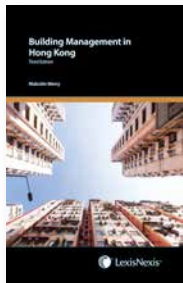

A Student's Guide to Hong Kong Conveyancing - Seventh Edition

Authors: Judith Sihombing,
Michael Wilkinson
Published: 2014
ISBN: 9789888232253
Student Price: $690
Format: Softcover Book

This seventh edition contains an extensive and detailed description of developments in Hong Kong conveyancing. There is now a voluminous amount of local case law explaining and developing the subject, thereby requiring the conveyancing solicitor to keep abreast of significant decisions.

The Court of Final Appeal has considered and decided on a number of important issues, and, at least in some areas, certainty has been achieved. However, points of contention remain. One aim of this book has been to report, discuss and expound on these issues.

This book is designed to satisfy students of land law and conveyancing at all stages. It is widely adopted at tertiary level and is used as the conveyancing text for the Overseas Lawyers Qualification Examination.

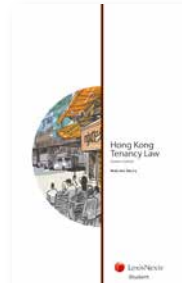

Building Management in Hong Kong – Third Edition

Author: Malcolm Merry
Published: 2016
ISBN: 97898888359370
Student Price: $690
Format: Softcover Book

Since the first edition of Building Management in Hong Kong, hundreds of building management cases have been heard in Hong Kong's courts and tribunals. The chapters concentrate on the relationships that dominate in management of buildings, such as those between the manager and the owners, between the government and owners and between owner and owner.

The text contains a narrative introduction to each relationship, which is designed for laymen as well as lawyers. This is followed by coverage of practical questions, and problem areas in which selected areas of legal difficulty are explored in more detail.

Hong Kong Tenancy Law - Student Edition

Author: Malcolm Merry
Published: 2017
ISBN: 9789888054299
Student Price: $750
Format: Softcover Book

This textbook is addressed to all those with an interest in landlord and tenant matters. The aim is to summarise the law with as much accuracy as is consistent with being intelligible to a wider audience.

The text discusses recent revisions to the law, especially pertaining to oral agreements, short leases, registration of tenancy agreements, rental levels, the term of the lease, exemption clauses, the tenant's representative on management committees, repairs, relief against forfeiture, vacant possession and damages. Numerous recent court decisions are referred to.

The book explains the law in simple and lucid fashion. Areas of practical importance are emphasised, ensuring that the text is of particular relevance for readers.

Land Law in Hong Kong - Fourth Edition

Authors: SH Goo,
Alice Lee
Published: 2015
ISBN: 9789888301270
Student Price: $690
Format: Softcover Book

Since the first edition, Land Law in Hong Kong has emerged as the leading textbook on the subject in Hong Kong. The text explains key concepts of property law and the conveyancing process. It covers all essential topics, including major forms of acquisition, the protection of ownership or interests in land, leases, licences, easements and mortgages.

This book contains extracts from numerous sources including judgments, academic writings and statutory provisions which focus on the core rationale behind the law and provide a convenient reference for students. The new edition also takes into account recent important legislative changes and cases.

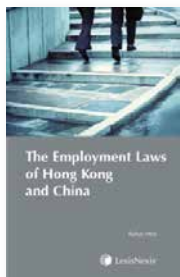

Criminal Procedure in Hong Kong: A Guide for Students and Practitioners - Second Edition

Author: Amanda Whitfort
Published: 2012
ISBN: 978988814669s
Student Price: $690
Format: Softcover Book

The purpose of Criminal Procedure in Hong Kong is to provide students and practitioners with a guide to the rules of criminal procedure in Hong Kong. Each stage of the criminal process is examined with reference to the relevant statutory provisions and case law, from initial investigative powers to indictment, trial and appeal. Explanation of trial procedures and jurisdictions in all three courts of first instance; the Magistrates Court, the District Court and the Court of First Instance are included. Separate chapters detail the law relating to costs in criminal cases and the procedure on appeals. This book also considers the various sentencing dispositions available to the courts and provides guidance as to how to propose a realistic sentence.

The second edition of this book has been updated to include new developments and recent case law, and now also includes the full text of relevant Practice Directions. It is intended as both a text for law students in Hong Kong and a handy reference guide for practitioners seeking to resolve the various questions of procedure which arise in criminal practice.

The Employment Laws of Hong Kong and China

Author: Rohan Price
Published: 2009
ISBN: 9789888016815
Student Price: $690
Format: Hardcover Book

This text provides a clear, comprehensive and up-to-date exposition on key employment laws in Hong Kong and China. It includes statutes and cases which have previously escaped analysis. Its coverage is divided into three parts:

- Commentary on the employment laws of Hong Kong
- Particular issues in Hong Kong
- Commentary on the employment laws of the PRC

This book also addresses the new employment laws in the PRC which have left many unsure about the scope and application of the law to work relationships. There is a comprehensive coverage of minimum standards and a handy guide to employment termination.

"This detailed yet readable text is accessible to a wide audience. It is a reliable guide for legal practitioners seeking case references or decisions, or wishing to brush up on a particular aspect of the law. HR professionals can turn to these pages with practical questions and students of law or business will find value in the book's explanations of the policy behind the law." - Michael Jenkins, Deputy Judge (Retired), District Court of Hong Kong

Principles of Equity and Trusts Law in Hong Kong - Second Edition

Authors: Lawrence Ma,
Michael Lower,
Jeffrey Sham
Published: 2015
ISBN: 9789888301263
Student Price: $690
Format: Softcover Book

Principles of Equity and Trusts Law in Hong Kong offers a clear explanation of the fundamentals of equity and trusts law. The book looks at the subject from a distinctly Hong Kong perspective, discussing the relevance of equity and trusts in common Hong Kong domestic and commercial settings. In addition, there are many useful references to how other jurisdictions (especially the United Kingdom) deal with problematic questions. Clear statements of the law are brought to life by extensive analysis of the decisions of the courts of Hong Kong.

The book includes self-test questions and suggestions for further reading, designed to help students to check their understanding and deepen their knowledge of the subject.

FAMILY LAW

Family Law Practice and Procedure in Hong Kong – Second Edition

Authors: Keith Hotten,
Azan Marwah,
Shaphan Marwah

Published: 2015

ISBN: 9789888301256

Student Price: $690

Format: Softcover Book

Family Law Practice and Procedure in Hong Kong covers all causes of action that arise in the family law context. It is aimed at LLB and JD family law students, who will find that the book covers all the main areas of general family law, but it is also written with a practical bias and addresses all the issues students will need to understand in order to master the subject at PCLL level.

The book offers essential, practical guidance on approaching all current issues in family law, including marriage and divorce, child custody and access disputes, ancillary relief and financial dispute resolution, child abduction and adoption under the Hague conventions as well as domestic violence, injunctions, appeals and family law remedies generally.

INTERNATIONAL LAW

An Introduction to the Conflict of Laws in Hong Kong

Authors: Alan Gibb,
Richard Morris,
King Fung Tsangl

Published: 2017

ISBN: 9789888389667

Student Price: $750

Format: Softcover Book

As Hong Kong conflict of laws rules are based on English common law rules (which have largely been replaced with European rules that have little relevance in Hong Kong), it can be difficult to find sources on this topic aside from older editions of English textbooks. This textbook is designed to address these issues by setting out in a clear, easy to read style the fundamental principles of the subject in a Hong Kong context. Its principal aim is to provide a good basic understanding of the subject which will then enable the reader to develop more specialist knowledge.

INTERNATIONAL LAW

Foundations of International Law - Third Edition

Author: Stephen Hall

Published: 2016

ISBN: 9789888388226

Student Price: $690

Format: Softcover Book

Foundations of International Law seeks to explain and illustrate the cardinal concepts of international law, providing students with a sound grasp of the subject area's structure and systemic requirements. The book brings clarity to international law that is occasionally missing from some specialist works, and a comprehensiveness which is always missing from basic introductions. It is unique in that it is written for a specifically Hong Kong readership.

The third edition is updated and revised to incorporate the most recent developments in international law across a wide range of areas. Recent decisions from the International Court of Justice and other international and domestic tribunals have been added. The chapter on international law in Hong Kong law has also been revised to incorporate recent developments.

JURISPRUDENCE AND LEGAL SYSTEM

An Introduction to the Legal System of the PRC - Fourth Edition

Author: Albert Chen

Published: 2011

ISBN: 9789888111374

Student Price: $590

Format: Softcover Book

The first edition of this book, which appeared in 1992, was one of the first books in the English language on the Chinese legal system written from a comparative jurisprudential perspective. This fourth edition now provides an up-to-date account of this system's history, constitutional structure, sources of law, major legal institutions (such as the courts, the procuratorates, the legal profession and the Ministry of Justice), as well as the basic concepts and principles of procedural and substantive law.

As China's economic and political importance in the twenty-first century continues to grow, the international community has become increasingly interested in China's legal framework. This book enables readers to have a comprehensive and systematic overview of the historical background to the thinking behind and the current situation of China's legal development. It draws on a wide range of materials in Chinese and English, and also provides guidance on sources of information for further research.

MEDIATION

Mediation Theory and Practice in Hong Kong

Author: Sarah E Hilmer
Published: 2010
ISBN: 9789888054459
Student Price: $690
Format: Softcover Book

The objective of Mediation Theory and Practice in Hong Kong is firstly, to provide sufficient mediation theory; and secondly, to use the theory in context of local Hong Kong mediation practice. The foundation of this book is the theory of mediation and the different stages of a mediation process; and will discuss each stage's importance and function. While the theory mainly reflects the parties' and mediator's perspectives, the practical part of the book mainly refers to the lawyers' involvement in a mediation process. References will be made to Practice Directions, relevant Civil Procedure Rules, relevant case law and necessary agreements relevant to a mediation process.

"The discussion of theory has general validity in all jurisdictions where mediation is taught and practiced. And the bridging of theory across to the structure of practice in Hong Kong serves both to elucidate the theory and to present the requirements of practice in a form which will be of great value to academics, practitioners and beyond." Sir Laurence Street, AC, KCMG, QC

The Hong Kong Mediation Manual

Author: Nadja Alexander
Published: 2014
ISBN: 9789888232543
Student Price: $690
Format: Softcover Book

The Hong Kong Mediation Manual: (formerly known as Mediation Practice and Process in Hong Kong) draws upon diverse traditional and contemporary practices to offer a layered and nuanced view of mediation to reflect the internationality of Hong Kong. The chapters are lucidly written and structured with useful illustrations, diagrams and figures that visually enhance and assist the reader to consolidate the wealth of information shared by the authors.

The second edition features a new chapter on mediation advocacy and all chapters have been extensively updated. There are two completely reworked chapters on the law on mediation in Hong Kong, incorporating relevant provisions of the Mediation Ordinance (Cap 620) and up-to-date Hong Kong and English case law. The chapter on mediation practice reflects the latest developments in Hong Kong, including the establishment and significance of HKMAAL. There are also discussions from around the world on mediation trends such as online dispute resolution, intercultural mediation, mediation models, process and skills.

TAXATION AND REVENUE

Hong Kong Tax Law - Cases & Materials - Sixth Edition

Authors: Andrew Halkyard,
 Jefferson P VanderWolk,
 Wilson WS Chow
Published: 2013
ISBN: 9789888231416
Student Price: $400
Format: Softcover Book

Hong Kong Tax Law: Cases and Materials - Sixth Edition deals comprehensively with Hong Kong profits tax, salaries tax and property tax. Particular attention is given to anti-avoidance legislation and the interpretation of tax statutes. The text includes material from statutory, administrative and judicial sources, along with commentary, notes and explanations by the authors. The reader is guided through the primary materials in a clear, easily understandable manner.

This book will be essential reading for students of revenue law in Hong Kong and will also be useful to practicing professionals and others who need to have a thorough understanding of the law in this area.

TECHNOLOGY

CyberLaw in Hong Kong - Third Edition

Authors: Paul Stephenson,
 Alisa Kwan
Published: 2014
ISBN: 9789888359646
Student Price: $690
Format: Softcover Book

Cyberlaw in Hong Kong - Third Edition is essential reading not only for lawyers, but anyone connected with the web. The third edition of this popular title includes the latest amendments to the Personal Data (Privacy) Ordinance (Cap 486), with the chapter completely rewritten and includes a chart setting out the complex criminal regime that has been implemented. The Ordinance regulates the sale of personal data in direct marketing, creates a new offence for disclosing personal data without consent and imposes heavier penalties. A discussion on the landmark decision of Shi Tao v Privacy Commissioner for Personal Data is also extensively discussed, among other cases. This book also includes the modifications to the Copyright Ordinance (Cap 528) and the largely amended Trade Descriptions Ordinance (Cap 362) that affects advertising law on the internet.

TORT LAW

Law of Tort in Hong Kong - Third Edition

Authors: DK Srivastava,
Anna Lui,
Charu Sharma,
Sara Tsui

Published: 2014

ISBN: 9789888232642

Student Price: $690

Format: Softcover Book

The Law of Tort in Hong Kong, first edition, was one of the first local textbooks on tort law. Now in its third edition, it still offers a unique local perspective on tort law, separate to English common law, as referring to laws of England does not always offer answers to problems unique to Hong Kong. This book aims to explain the legal principles of the law of tort through the lens of and with particular reference to Hong Kong cases and legislation. Leading cases on the law of tort are analysed and relevant legislation examined. The authors also discuss Hong Kong socioeconomic developments and suggest options for law reform.

Distinctive of other works from England or elsewhere in the Commonwealth, this book focuses on typical Hong Kong problems such as nuisance, trespass, occupiers' and owners' liability and liability of bank and financial advisers.

This core text is of value and interest to lawyers, law lecturers and students.

OTHERS

Professional Conduct of Lawyers in Hong Kong: Desk Edition 2013/2014

Authors: Michael Wilkinson,
Michael Sandor

Published: 2014

ISBN: 9789888231805

Student Price: $690

Format: Softcover Book

The Professional Conduct of Lawyers in Hong Kong: Desk Edition 2013/2014 has been expanded from its previous edition in recognition of the growth of discussion and material concerning professional practice through recent years. Key features of previous editions have been retained and further developed, including relevant decisions from Hong Kong and other jurisdictions, as well as detailed coverage of the Hong Kong's Guide to Professional Conduct and the Bar Code. Recent developments have led to new features in this book, which include discussions on Hong Kong's anti-money laundering and financing legislation, the granting of higher rights of audience to Hong Kong-qualified solicitors, limited liability partnerships, amendments to the Solicitor's Account Rules, the Solicitor's Guide and more.

This book serves as a guide to understand the high standards of conduct expected of all members of the legal profession. Professional responsibility in Hong Kong has evolved rapidly, and will continue to develop both locally and internationally. It is therefore imperative for practitioners and students to be alert to changes in this area of law.

REFERENCE BOOK

COMMERCIAL LAW

A Guide to the World Trade Organisation

Authors: Richard Senti,
Hans Mahncke

Published: 2008

ISBN: 9789628972593

Student Price: $265

Format: Softcover Book

The establishment of the World Trade Organisation (WTO) in 1995 meant both a continuation and a re-orientation of the post-war world trade order. While the basic principles governing world trade, as well as laws relating to trade in goods (GATT), were maintained, the existing system was expanded with the inclusion of trade in services (GATS) and laws on the protection of intellectual property rights (TRIPS). The WTO in Geneva acts as the institutional umbrella for these and other agreements. The aim of this book is to outline the origins, purpose and scope of the individual agreements, as well as to examine how they function institutionally.

Additionally, this book explores the developments that the relevant laws and practices have undergone over the years. In recent times, the WTO has become the subject of wideranging criticisms, the causes and effects of which are also studied.

This book serves as a tool in accessing the current world trading system for students, practitioners and laypersons alike.

CONSTITUTIONAL LAW

Autonomy and Protection of Fundamental Rights in the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region

Author: Wong Yun-Bor

Published: 2007

ISBN: 9789628937578

Student Price: $580

Format: Softcover Book

The question of whether Hong Kong is an autonomous region independent of the PRC or an internal administrative region of the PRC is not straightforward. The answer is particularly unclear when it comes to the practical protection of fundamental rights.

This book explores the legal structure of the HKSAR, including its constitutional and international status, and analyses the legal meaning of "one country, two systems". It focuses on the issues of selfdetermination and the protection of the rights of the people of a territory who have transferred from one state to another with reference to international treaties and the provisions of a national constitution.

This is one of the first studies to comprehensively review the legal problems arising from Hong Kong's transition and the first book to systematically analyse the legal meaning of the "autonomy" currently practised in Hong Kong. It will be a significant contribution to the further understanding of international law and Chinese constitutional law.

CONSTITUTIONAL LAW

Basic Law of the HKSAR of the PRC & People's Republic of China National Laws, Regulations and Other Instruments Applicable to the HKSAR

Author: LexisNexis

Published: 1998

ISBN: 9789628105113

Student Price: $370

Format: Softcover Book

An excellent reference work containing the full text of the Basic Law of Hong Kong, various decisions of the National People's Congress on the Basic Law and other founding documents, in both English and Traditional Chinese. For easy reference, the work also contains dual indexes in English and Chinese.

The perfect companion for any research on the basic law area, which by necessity involves looking at the original text. This text also contains colour plates with the flag, emblem and official map for the HKSAR region.

CONSTITUTIONAL LAW

Human Rights and Development: Law, Policy and Governance

Author: Raj Kumar

Published: 2006

ISBN: 9789628937141

Student Price: $840

Format: Softcover Book

"This book is likely to be the gold standard for all future discussions of a constellation of the world's and, in particular, Asia's most intractable problems. The 28 essays, written by distinguished authors from perspectives that cross geographic, ideological and disciplinary lines, thoughtfully consider issues of human rights (both substantive and institutional), poverty and development, corruption, and terrorism, the great leveler of civil liberties. The book should have a shelf life as long as these issues persist, that is, for the indefinite future." – Norman Dorsen, Stokes Professor of Law, New York University School of Law, & Founder and Editorial Director, International Journal of Constitutional Law

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

Intellectual Property for Business

Author: Ronald Yu
Published: 2013
ISBN: 9789888231461
Student Price: $490
Format: Softcover Book

An understanding of both Intellectual Property (IP) law and modern business strategy is key to maximising the IP of any business. In Intellectual Property for Business, the vital principles of IP law are explained clearly and comprehensively so that the reader has a thorough reference of the law and appreciates the intersections between legal and business matters.

This book aims to make IP law accessible to all levels of readership and the text is kept fresh and interactive with reader-friendly commentary, modern illustrations and numerous exercises to demonstrate the practicality of the subject matter.

TORT LAW

Hong Kong Tort Law: Texts Cases & Ordinances

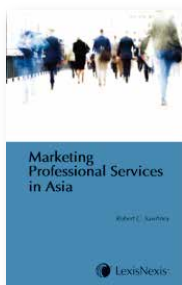

Author: Fozia Nazir Lone
Published: 2014
ISBN: 9789888231607
Student Price: $690
Format: Softcover Book

Hong Kong Tort Law: Texts, Cases and Ordinances engages its readers in the effective learning of the principles of tort law. It provides an in-depth discussion of significant concepts of tort law which include negligence, nuisance, employer's liability, occupier's liability, the Rylands v Fletcher rule, economic torts, defamation, trespass, defences, damages and remedies. This work considers the impact of case law from the US as well as common law jurisdictions such as the UK, Australia and Hong Kong. This work also introduces the reader to the subject from a social and policy-oriented context.

Throughout the text, questions of practical importance are raised to encourage critical thinking and to train the reader in the application of tort law. This book is the first in Hong Kong to incorporate 'discovery-based innovative teaching pedagogy' and utilises critical thinking exercises that stimulate active discussion and the consideration of real-world issues.

Case studies, explanations of principle-making and the exposition of recent case law further ensure that readers are clear about the current position of the law. Each chapter illustrates how ordinances are connected in the Hong Kong tort law system.

Marketing Professional Services in Asia

Author: Robert C. Sawhney
Published: 2009
ISBN: 9789888016310
Student Price: $530
Format: Softcover Book

Marketing is crucial to the success of any firm, and this has been demonstrated time and time again through research in a wide variety of industries, including professional service firms (PSF). Unfortunately, what has been written for the PSF is either western based or fails to account for the unique nature of firms in Asia.

This book is different. It addresses strategic marketing issues directly from the perspective of the Asian PSF by drawing on research and methodologies that are rooted in the context of the Asian professional service provider. There are numerous cases and insights taken from the Asian market which will provide the reader with relevant, actionable advice. Additionally, a number of models have been developed whereby practitioners can take these concepts and apply them within their own firm. Covering a wide range of issues such as marketing culture, strategy, branding, and pricing, this book is for practicing professionals and PSF marketers, those at the top of the firm who have ultimate responsibility for the strategic direction and performance of the firm. There are also chapters written specifically for the small PSF which take into account the unique nature of small firm management.
